COURSE DESCRIPTION

The English Novel 20th Century is a survey of novels written in and about England from 1907 to 1989. We focus on shifts in worldviews, concepts of the self, and concepts of storytelling that took place during this time period. The twentieth century, particularly the early twentieth century, is considered the modernist period, in which well-established traditional worldviews were being challenged by the new generation of writers. The modernist period also commented on the state of humanity in a growing industrial and technological age and discussed commonly felt anxieties that human beings were growing increasingly isolated from one another, from nature, and from themselves. There were also fears that reliance on machines would only serve to make human beings more machine-like or, worse, that humanity could already be programmed to function like a machine. Political and social concerns such as the effect of the two World Wars on the English populace also made themselves evident in the novels of this course.

Course Goals

After you have completed this course, you should be able to:

- Discuss some of the major elements of modernism.
- Discuss some of the major narrative techniques of modernism.
- Discuss some of the major political and social concerns occurring in these novels.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Students must have and regularly check a valid email account for this course. Students are recommended to check their email accounts at least twice per week or more often depending on progress in the course.

By signing up for an online course, students certify that they have reliable access to a computer and the internet. In order to take these courses, students need to have a web browser, a word processing program, a program for reading Acrobat documents, and other programs for example Windows or real Media to view/hear multimedia content.

If a student does not already have these programs, many options are available including these free options:

Multi-platform Web Browser: Mozilla Firefox, mozilla.org

Word Processing: OpenOffice, openoffice.org

Acrobat Reader: Adobe Acrobat, adobe.com

NOTE: If you do not have Microsoft Office or other software capable of saving documents in one of the file formats identified above, you can download the OpenOffice software suite free of charge at openoffice.org/product. OpenOffice is an open-source designed office productivity suite that has comparable components to Microsoft Office. Please reference OpenOffice's comprehensive help files for instructions in its effective use.

GRADING

Grading Criteria

Your course grade will be determined as follows:

Written Assignments	100%
Total	100%

This is the grading scale with equivalent numerical grades:

A	=	90 or above	C	=	70 – 73
A-	=	87 – 89	C-	=	67 – 66
B+	=	84 – 86	D+	=	64 – 66
B	=	80 – 83	D	=	60 – 63
B-	=	77 – 79	D-	=	57 – 59
C+	=	74 – 76	E	=	56 or below

The University of Florida assures the confidentiality of all your educational records in accordance with State University System Rules, State Statutes, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Grades are not given out over the phone.

Grading Standards

Here is the meaning behind the grades I assign to your papers (you should use these statements to determine how you might work toward a higher grade):

An “A” paper is free of most mechanical, grammatical, and spelling errors. (Papers with more than a few significant errors will usually be graded below A.) The paper handles the topic concretely and in depth; the presentation is professional and the style reflects a proper professional communication standard.

A “B” paper may have some mechanical or grammatical flaws or treat the subject in somewhat less depth or with less concreteness.

A “C” paper is just adequate in presentation, or does not treat the subject in adequate depth or with sufficient concreteness, and/or has more serious grammatical and mechanical errors than a “B” paper would have.

A “D” paper is most likely flawed grammatically and stylistically and does not handle the topic adequately; there may be insufficient detail, poor organization and heading use, and general vagueness and awkwardness.

An “E” paper has many (seven or eight) serious mechanical and grammatical errors; the coverage may be incomplete.

All written assignments must be accepted before a final grade will be given.

COURSE PROCEDURES

How to Submit Written Assignments

You are required to submit all assignments through e-Learning in Canvas.

You may submit a maximum of one assignment per week to be graded. Feedback on past assignments will help you in preparing future ones. On rare occasions, assignments have become lost for various reasons. You should make and retain a copy of each assignment before you submit it. Should an assignment be lost, you will be required to resubmit it.

Submitting Assignments Online: Students are required submit 9 written assignments online in Canvas. When registering for courses, be sure to provide our office with an up to date e-mail address.

Note: Uploaded assignments should be in 12-point Times New Roman font and may be submitted in any of the following extensions: docs, txt, rtf, pdf, ppt, xls, zip.

Expectations for Students’ Performance

This Flexible Learning course has been developed with the same rigorous standards of content as a campus course. Expectations for your performance as an online student are as high as they would be if you were taking this course in a classroom.

Plagiarism:

“A student shall not represent as the student’s own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

1. Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.

2. Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.” Source: Regulations of the University of Florida, UF-4.041. For more information, please go to this link: Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code: Scope and Violations

“For a violation or violations of the Honor Code, a student may receive any of the sanctions that can be imposed for Student Conduct Code violations, including but not limited to conduct probation, suspension and expulsion as well as any educational sanctions. In addition, students may receive the following:

(a) Assignment grade penalty. The student is assigned a grade penalty on an assignment including but not limited to a zero.

(b) Course grade penalty. The student is assigned a grade penalty in the entire course including but not limited to an ‘E’.” Source: Regulations of the University of Florida, UF-4.047.

Disability Accommodations:

The Disability Resource Center in the Dean of Students Office provides students and faculty with information and support regarding accommodations for students with disabilities. Staff at the Disability Resource Center will assist any student who registers as having a disability. Official documentation of a disability is required to determine eligibility for appropriate accommodations. The professional employees at the Disability Resource Center serve as full-time advocates for students with disabilities ensuring students have physical and programmatic access to all college programs. One of the services provided by the Disability Resource Center includes:

Course Deadline and Extension Policy:

Students are allowed 16 weeks, from their date of enrollment, to complete and submit their coursework. If the student has not submitted at least 50% of their coursework and have an extenuating circumstance preventing them from submitting the coursework, a failing grade of “E”, “E0” or “E1” will be issued and recorded to the UF Registrar.

If the student has made sufficient academic progress, which is defined as completing and submitting at least 50% of the coursework and have an extenuating circumstance, the student may petition the instructor for a course extension before the course expires. Each course extension request will be administratively evaluated. Instructors are not required to allow extensions. If a student does receive an extension, an incomplete grade of an “I” will be assigned as an interim grade. When the course is completed, the instructor will initiate the change of grade. After that, the “I” grade will be changed to the student’s final course grade on their transcript.

Course Cancels and Course Drops:

A Course Cancel:

A tuition refund may be granted after a student submits a written request within 30 days of enrollment to the Flexible Learning Office. This request must be in writing by learn@dce.ufl.edu or sent by fax, 352-392-6950. Refunds will be the amount of tuition, less $25.00 per course. If a credit card was used, the refund will be credited back to the card. No refunds are granted after 30 days.

Course Drop:

Dropping a course: To drop a course, you need to email the Flexible Learning office at learn@dce.ufl.edu with a request to drop within 14 weeks of the date of enrollment. In addition to their own request by email, UF students must have advisor approval to drop a flexible learning course. An advisor can email learn@dce.ufl.edu with the student's name, the course that they want to drop, and confirmation of permission to do so. It is the student's responsibility to verify that all drop requests have been received by the Flexible Learning office within the allotted time. The course grade will appear as "W" on a UF transcript.

Students with disabilities who need to drop a course due to disability-related reasons are permitted to petition for additional drops. Find more information by contacting the Disability Resource Center.

Full Term Withdrawals:

All full-term withdrawals must follow University of Florida policies/ procedures. An approved withdrawal form must be submitted to the Dean of Student's Office for review and final approval. Students must also notify the Flexible Learning of this request by learn@dce.ufl.edu.

It is the responsibility of the student to notify Flexible Learning of their approved medical or retroactive withdrawal so the students' record is updated. Email to our office a copy of the approval.

Medical Withdrawals:
