Course Information

SPN 1130 - Introduction to Spanish I – Flexible Learning

Professor Sonia San Juan

Course Description

This course is a fully online beginning Spanish course. Students should plan to dedicate 3-4 hours of homework per course credit hour. That is 15-20 hours a week for this course.

This course is designed to increase the student's ability to speak (hablar), write (escribir), and listen (escuchar) in Spanish. The reproduction of situations in the context of the Hispanic culture will offer you an opportunity to practice key aspects of the target language and introduce you to the richness of the Spanish language. This course gradually reviews and expands on students' basic grammar proficiency and gives students an understanding and working ability of more complex grammatical constructions. It combines an innovative web-based interactive collaboration format with face-to-face instruction to create a comfortable, highly supported, productive learning environment. The emphasis of the course is on oral expression, however in the digital era reading and writing in a foreign language have become increasingly more important. Therefore, additional attention will be devoted to reading and writing in Spanish.

Effective communication depends on practice. Accordingly, grammar and vocabulary will be presented, reviewed, and applied to conversation each week. Every week, students are expected to log on to the Contraseña textbook and practice vocabulary and grammar constructions. Students will be tested on the material covered at the end of every unit and at the end of the semester with a written presentation. The tests will evaluate each student's listening skills, comprehension skills, knowledge of vocabulary, and grammar skills.

By the end of this course, students will communicate and interact with cultural understanding using Spanish words and simple sentences to ask and answer questions, to handle simple transactions related to everyday life, and to talk about basic personal, academic, and career-related situations in multilingual communities around the world.

Keep in mind that you have enrolled in a college course. You will be treated like a college student and expected to act like one. You will not be reminded to turn in assignments, and late assignments will only be accepted in exceptional circumstances. You must turn in all assignments when they are due; there will be no extra credit work at the end of the semester to boost your grade if you missed assignments. Additionally, if you have a problem with anything related to the class, YOU (not your parents) must speak to the instructor. If you choose to communicate with your professor via email, make sure to include the course name in the subject line of every message. Please use appropriate language when communicating with your professor electronically. Remember: an email is not a cellphone text message.

Keys to Success

The keys to success in this class are generally the same as those in any other course. However, given the nature of online courses, students are responsible for covering a good deal of material independently. Competency in the basic use of a computer is required to complete numerous independent web-based activities.

The level of proficiency and the final grade attained will depend largely on what a student puts into their learning. Student success requires substantial commitment and proactivity. Students are expected to dedicate 15-20 hours of study per week to this class. Thus, it is in students' best interest NOT to wait until the last minute to complete assignments.

Do not think about finishing the course! Just think about putting in the time: Good online learners use processes that involve putting a certain daily amount of time into their chosen course. It is best, at least at first, to only do one online course at a time.) Your daily goal is always to put in the time you've allotted, whether it's five minutes or five hours. This means never missing an "X" on your calendar, signifying you've done your day's studies. — Learning

How to Learn

1. Time management: Set time aside EACH DAY to complete class activities.
2. Questions and confusion: The instructor (s) want to help you! However, the instructor can only help if the student takes the first step and reaches out.
3. Don't be shy!: The more willing students are to share, talk, and interact with their instructor and classmates, the more they will get out of the course. And, don't worry, everyone feels the same way, even if they don't show it!
4. Netiquette Communication Courtesy: All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions, and chats. Please read the Netiquette Guide for Online Courses.

“A learning community is a group of people who share common academic goals and attitudes, who meet semi-regularly to collaborate on classwork.” (Lardner & Gillies, 2008).

Students will be assigned to small learning communities with no more than 10 peers. Many of the asynchronous activities will be completed within just the learning group. This will allow students to establish relationships with their peers and to feel more comfortable talking about themselves and asking personal questions (Identity is the course theme). Students are highly encouraged to reach out to their learning community beyond the assigned activities to form study-buddies or review groups, ask each other questions about difficult concepts, and support each other throughout the course.

For LinguaMeeting coaching sessions, students may not necessarily be meeting with the same students from their learning group (due to different schedules). This is also beneficial in that it will challenge students to use their developing Spanish skills to maintain a conversation with less familiar individuals...a skill that will be highly useful as proficiency develops.

Course Policies

Course Communications

The instructor will respond to inquiries submitted within 24 hours on business days. Weekend inquiries will be answered on Monday in the order that they were received.

Students are expected to use UF email or the Canvas email function to communicate with the instructor and/or group members. It is expected that students respond within 48 hours to any individual email sent by the instructor. Delays or failure to respond to emails will affect student's course performance.

Our class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voice recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials by students or any other party is prohibited.

Performance Policy

This course has been developed with the same rigorous standards of content as a campus course. Expectations of student performance are as high as they are for traditional face-to-face classrooms.

Attendance and Participation Policies

Late and Make-up Work: All assignments must be turned in by the established due date. If a student cannot comply with the assigned due date, s/he must contact the instructor IMMEDIATELY and/or 24 hours before the deadline for a one (1) time only make-up. This DOES NOT APPLY to assessments unless the instructor receives a petition from the Dean of Students to accommodate an exceptional situation AND there is evidence that the student has been completing all requirements of the course to that point.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalog at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>.

Incompletes: The Lower Division Spanish Program abides by the University policy on Incomplete grades (<http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/staff/grades.html#incomplete>) and we will NOT assign any I grades except under truly exceptional extenuating circumstances. Students MUST arrange a meeting with the instructor and with Prof. Antonio Gil if they believe their situation qualifies for consideration.

Extra Credit: No extra credit will be given under any circumstances. There are NO EXCEPTIONS!

S/U Option: Students can choose to take this course S/U if desired. Please see <http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/pdf/SUgradeoption.pdf>

Procedure for Conflict Resolution

Any classroom issues, disagreements, or grade disputes should be discussed first between the instructor and the student. If the problem cannot be resolved, please contact the appropriate Level Coordinator or the Department Chair. Be prepared to provide documentation of the problem, as well as all graded materials for the semester. Issues that cannot be resolved departmentally will be referred to the University Ombuds Office (<http://www.ombuds.ufl.edu>; 392-1308) or the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu>; 392-1261). For further information, refer to <https://distance.ufl.edu/getting-help/student-complaint-process>.

UF Policies

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities:

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, <https://disability.ufl.edu/>) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter that must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

University Policy on Academic Conduct:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

All submitted work must be the student's own original work. The use of computer – or internet-based translation programs (Google) is not allowed. No one outside of the course, STUDENT OR NOT, should look at the assigned Contraseña/Canvas activities, suggest changes, or make corrections to a student's work. Any evidence of disallowed resources or work that is not a product of a student's own intellectual process will be handled according to the student honor code policy. The submitted assignment will earn a grade of zero, and the student may receive a course penalization of a full letter grade or more depending on the infraction.

Netiquette and Communication Courtesy:

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions, and chats.

Collaborative Practice Activities

LinguaMeeting: “En Vivo” Sessions

This class includes a live Spanish language learning component— LinguaMeeting “En Vivo” Language Sessions. This activity is an integral and mandatory part of the class. Students will sign up for (12) 30-minute small group coaching sessions with a trained language coach from South America or Spain. Students will meet once a week, starting in week 2. Students will meet virtually using the LinguaMeeting platform accessible via Contraseña. Students will need access to headphones, a microphone, and a webcam.

Grades are assigned according to a rubric (available in Canvas) based on attendance and degree of participation, not accuracy or fluency, during the session as well as the response to post-session activities (Después de la sesión).

Although these sessions are fundamental to succeeding in other aspects of the course, to allow for student flexibility, the lowest two (2) grades of the “En Vivo” sessions (not other related activities, i.e., Después de la sesión or the Oral project) will be dropped.

These sessions are conversational in nature and are intended to be an opportunity to put into practice what students have been learning from other course activities. They are not intended to be a “test” or tutorial of the grammatical aspects of the class, but rather a time to practice students’ listening and speaking skills. The sessions are recorded (available to students post-session) and will be viewed by the instructor.

Students should keep their notes from these sessions as the final oral project will be based on the knowledge they have gathered about their coach and his/her country during these sessions.

Independent Practice Activities

Contraseña Activities

You will be assigned a variety of homework assignments from the Contraseña site, consisting of tutorials, grammar exercises, listening and writing practice, etc. You are responsible for completing all the assigned activities (Computer graded and instructor graded).

Maximize Your Language Learning

Contraseña offers many resources for learning Spanish. Students will find a variety of opportunities to continue practicing independently, including study guides that can be downloaded, various Vocabulary and Grammar Tutorials, and downloadable media. Tutorías de español, presented by prof. San Juan, in every unit on Canvas, expands the grammatical subjects studied in that unit.

Students are encouraged to use these resources every week.
