Email through the course management system is the best way to get in touch with me. I try to respond to all questions within 48 hours.

No prerequisites are required for this class. This is an introductory level class, and no prior experience with sociology is assumed.

Sociology is fundamentally about asking questions about the way the world works, about making the familiar strange, and about developing better understandings of how our personal lives fit within broader social patterns. As you’ll see, the textbook has a lot of information about the field of sociology; what I want you to understand by the end of the course is that the tools of the sociologist are useful in everyday life. Sociologists study a wide variety of topics, and study those topics from a wide variety of perspectives. Throughout the class, we’re going to focus on one aspect of life that is very important to all of us – food. We interact with food every day, but we seldom take time to think about all that goes into our relationships with food. So – I hope you’ll have some fun as you learn about sociology and how the tools of the sociologist can be used to study food.

By the end of this course, students will:

1) Introduce students to the basic concepts, theories, and methods that sociologists use. Course materials and activities provide students opportunities to see how social scientist use varied methods to collect information about specific social issues. Moreover, students will critically assess how that information can be used to frame understanding about why social patterns exist and what might be the possible consequences of those patterns.

2) Provide students with a brief overview of sociology as a discipline within the social sciences that exposes students to strategies to identify, study, and address social issues and research questions. Course activities will provide students with opportunities to apply critical thinking skills to evaluate debates about contemporary social issues and the evidence needed to address the issues.

3) Help students to develop the ability to understand how various social processes and structures affect one another.
4) Encourage students to develop a better understanding of how their own lives and significant relationships are shaped by larger social forces.

5) Provide students with insights about how individuals' interactions with others can affect the larger society.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The course is divided into weekly modules. Each week will involve reading, a quiz, and a written assignment. There are also two forum postings throughout the course.
COURSE POLICIES

PERFORMANCE POLICY
This Flexible Learning course has been developed with the same rigorous standards of content as a campus course. Expectations for your performance as a Flexible Learning student are as high as they would be if you were taking this course in a classroom.

PARTICIPATION POLICY
Students are required to participate in all course activities and submit all assignments posted on the website by their due dates.

MAKE-UP POLICY
Students are allowed to resubmit assignments based on feedback that is provided. Resubmission does not guarantee a change of grade.

ASSIGNMENT POLICY
The course expires 16 weeks after your enrollment. All assignments must be submitted at least 2 weeks prior to the course expiration date. Complete all modules in the order they are presented on the course website; do not skip modules.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS
Students must use their Gatorlink email account for this course. Students are recommended to check their email account DAILY for the duration of the course. Access to and on-going use of a computer with Internet access is required for all students. Competency in the basic use of a computer is required. At times, computers crash and Internet connections fail. It is in your best interest NOT to wait until the last minute to complete assignments.

EXTENSION POLICY
Students have the option to request an extension if they have made sufficient academic progress (defined as completing at least 50% of the course) and have extenuating circumstances (i.e., medical, etc.) that have prevented them from completing the course. Each extension petition must be made in writing and will be administratively evaluated by the instructor. All instructor extension decisions must be forwarded to your assigned Academic Support Staff Member for processing.

TRANSCRIPTS
The student can view their grades by logging into MyUFL with their Gatorlink login and by selecting Student Admin. To receive an official transcript, the student must complete a transcript request form through the Registrar. The University of Florida assures the confidentiality of all your educational records in accordance with State University System Rules, State Statutes, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Grades are not given over the telephone.

Course Deadline and Extension Policy:
Students are allowed 16 weeks, from their date of enrollment, to complete and submit their coursework. If the student has not submitted at least 50% of their coursework and have an extenuating circumstance preventing them from submitting the coursework, a failing grade of “E”, “E0” or “E1” will be issued and recorded to the UF Registrar.

If the student has made sufficient academic progress, which is defined as completing and submitting at least 50% of the coursework and have an extenuating circumstance, the student may petition the instructor for a course extension before the course expires. Each course extension request will be administratively evaluated. Instructors are not required to allow extensions. If a student does receive an extension, an incomplete grade of an “I” will be assigned as an interim grade. When the course is completed, the instructor will initiate the change of grade. After that, the “I” grade will be changed to the student’s final course grade on their transcript.

Course Cancels and Course Drops

Course Cancel
A tuition refund may be granted after a student submits a written request within 30 days of enrollment to the Flexible Learning Office. This request must be in writing by learn@dce.ufl.edu or sent by fax, 352-392-6950. Refunds will be the amount of tuition, less $25.00 per course. If a credit card was used, the refund will be credited back to the card. No refunds are granted after 30 days.

Dropping a Course
To drop a course, you need to email the Flexible Learning office at learn@dce.ufl.edu with a request to drop within 14 weeks of the date of enrollment. In addition to their own request by email, UF students must have advisor approval to drop a flexible learning course. An advisor can email learn@dce.ufl.edu with the student’s name, the course that they want to drop, and confirmation of permission to do so. It is the student's responsibility to verify that all drop requests have been received by the Flexible Learning office within the allotted time. The course grade will appear as "W" on a UF transcript.

Students with disabilities who need to drop a course due to disability-related reasons are permitted to petition for additional drops. Find more information by contacting the Disability Resource Center.

Netiquette: Communication Courtesy
All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions and chats. For more information, refer to the Netiquette Guide for Online Courses.

UF Policies

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then give this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

The Flexible Learning office needs to be notified of any special accommodations required by the student when they begin their course.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at the Dean of Students Office website.

Plagiarism

“A student shall not represent as the student’s own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:
(a) Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.

(b) Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.” Source: Regulations of the University of Florida, UF-4.041. “For a violation or violations of the Honor Code, a student may receive any of the sanctions that can be imposed for Student Conduct Code violations, including but not limited to conduct probation, suspension and expulsion as well as any educational sanctions. In addition, students may receive the following:

(a) Assignment grade penalty. The student is assigned a grade penalty on an assignment including but not limited to a zero.

(b) Course grade penalty. The student is assigned a grade penalty in the entire course including but not limited to an ‘E’.” Source: Regulations of the University of Florida, UF-4.047.

GETTING HELP

TECHNICAL HELP

For issues with technical difficulties for E-learning in Canvas, please contact the UF Help Desk at:
